Art Unit: 1653

Claims 12-36 have been canceled. Claims 1-11 are pending.

At page 20, paragraph 2, "PrPB" is a designation for three different factors: PrPBlls, PrPBllp, and PrPBIp. Therefore, the term "PrPB" used in the claims has been likened to the phrase "selected from the group consisting of PrPBlls, PrPBllp, and PrPBI". This group of factors is considered to be an improper Markush group because these prion binding factors do not share similar structure as indicated by their purification from different precipitations or share similar activity based on their recognition of PrP<sup>sc</sup> or its digested form PrP<sup>27-30</sup>. Therefore, because these factors differ in structure and in function, they are patentably distinct. Examination of any one of the following groups will be carried out only in-so-far as it pertains to the designated PrPB.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method for concentrating PrP<sup>sc</sup> with magnetic beads:PrPBlls, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- II. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method for concentrating PrP<sup>sc</sup> with magnetic beads:PrPBllp, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- III. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method for concentrating PrP<sup>sc</sup> with magnetic beads:PrPBIp, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The methods of Inventions I-III require the use of different products. Therefore, these methods are patentably distinct.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
